

ALEC EXPOSED

"ALEC" has long been a secretive collaboration between Big Business and "conservative" politicians. Behind closed doors, they ghostwrite "model" bills to be introduced in state capitols across the country. This agenda--underwritten by global corporations--includes major tax loopholes for big industries and the super rich, proposals to offshore U.S. jobs and gut minimum wage, and efforts to weaken public health, safety, and environmental protections. Although many of these bills have become law, until now, their origin has been largely unknown. With ALEC EXPOSED, the Center for Media and Democracy hopes more Americans will study the bills to understand the depth and breadth of how big corporations are changing the legal rules and undermining democracy across the nation.

Center for Media and Democracy's quick summary:

This bill is part of a bundle of 1995 ALEC model bills that propagate failed "War on Drugs" policies. This bill and others fail to recognize that increased punishment has not been shown to deter drug use and that drug abuse is an addiction that needs to be treated with rehabilitative interventions rather than more harsh punishment. How can people convicted of drug use, even limited use, turn their lives around without being able to drive to work? How does this contrast with ALEC's view on alcohol use, given the financial interests of some of ALEC's corporate underwriters?
