9. Understanding insurance;
10. Identity fraud and theft;
(11) Charitable giving;

(12) Understanding the financial impact and consequences of gambling;

(13) Earning an income; and

(14) Understanding state and federal taxes.

(B) "Board" means the state Board of Education.

(C) "Department" means the state Department of Education

Section 3. {Administration}

(A) Beginning with students entering the seventh grade in [year] school year, in order to graduate from a public high school accredited by the state Board of Education with a standard diploma, students shall fulfill the requirements for a personal financial literacy passport. The requirements for a personal financial literacy passport shall be satisfactory completion in all areas of instruction in personal financial literacy as listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2 during grades seven through twelve.

(B) Beginning with the [year] school year, school districts shall provide instruction in personal financial literacy to students during grades seven through twelve. School districts shall have the option of determining when each area of instruction listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2 shall be presented to students.

(C) Personal financial literacy instruction shall be integrated into one or more existing courses of study or provided in a separate personal financial literacy course. School districts shall have the option of determining into which course or courses each area of instruction listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2 shall be integrated.

(D) The state Board of Education shall identify and adopt curriculum standards for personal financial literacy instruction that reflect the areas of instruction listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2. The standards shall be incorporated into the state academic content standards adopted by the Board.

(E) The state Department of Education shall:

(1) Develop guidelines and material designed to enable schools to infuse personal financial literacy within any course of study currently offered by the school district or offer personal financial literacy as a separate course. The guidelines shall outline the areas of instruction to be taught based on the curriculum standards adopted by the Board;

(2) Provide resources, including online modules, for integrating the teaching of personal financial literacy into an existing course or courses of study or for developing a separate personal financial literacy course. The online modules shall include an assessment component for each area of instruction listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2.

(F) The Department may work with one or more not-for-profit organizations that have proven expertise in the development of standards and curriculum and delivery of teacher professional development in personal financial literacy for the purpose of developing and providing guidelines, materials, resources, including online modules, and professional development.

(G)

(1) For students who transfer into a [state] school district from out of state after the seventh grade, school districts shall assess the knowledge of the student in each of the areas of instruction listed in Subsection (A) of Section 2. If the school district determines that the transferred student has successfully completed instruction in any or all of the areas of personal financial literacy instruction at a previous school in which the student was enrolled or if the student demonstrates satisfactory knowledge of any or all of the areas of personal financial literacy instruction through an assessment, the school district may exempt the student from completing instruction in that area of personal financial literacy instruction. School districts may use the assessment contained in the online modules provided by the state Department of Education pursuant to Subsection (E) of this section to determine the personal financial literacy knowledge level of the student. School districts may also use the online modules to present an area of instruction to transferred students who have not completed or who did not demonstrate satisfactory knowledge in one or more of the areas of personal financial literacy instruction.

(2) For students who transfer into a [state] school district from out of state after the junior year of high school, school districts may make an exception to the requirements for a personal financial literacy passport.
